

Steve Hackett, Picture Postcard

Don't want a picture
To pin upon my wall

Just want some one to
Help me forget, that's all

I don't want to be here on my own
Hungry as a dog without a bone

Don't want a postcard
Showing some distant view

Just want some one to
Laugh when I blow a fuse

I don't want to be here on my own
Hungry as a dog without a bone
I don't want to be alone
I don't want to cry and moan

I don't want to be alone
I don't want to cry and moan

Nobody can hear a single word I say

As I walk the floor
Seems there's nothing more
Time to go to sleep once more

But in my dreams there's a place
Where it's never to late
I see nothing has changed
And that's where you still remain

Don't want a postcard
Don't want a postcard
Don't want a postcard
