

Steve Hackett, Turn Back Time

I'm not on the ball
Living in a world of so much change
Thought that I might be much stronger
When I'm far away from you

What I'd give to learn to turn back time

Sometimes words are dancing
Like caterpillars moving on a page
I would send you all my letters
Feel like living in cage

What I'd give to learn to turn back time

Your love is bound to see me through
Your warmth is bound to find a way
Your touch is all I really need
Your smile, the one and only key

I'm not on th ball
Living in a world of so much change
Thought that I might be much stronger
When I'm far away from you

What I'd give to learn to turn back time
