

Steve Harley, Someone's Coming

Seeing you're is such a good thing

Now can say the things I've waited to say

Of how I fear your life is wasting away

Losing a friend is such a sad thing

It's never easy when your loves' on the line

You feel the loss that always seemed so unkind

You'll have to bear the pain and know all the time

There's always someone else to help on your climb

Hold on.

Chorus: Someone's coming for me coming for you coming for everyone

Someone's coming for me coming for you coming for everyone

You're making me mad with all your fretting

I'll only tell you how it is one more time

And then I'll leave you here to make up your mind

So pick up your heart and start forgetting

You'll feel her lose away

Then your weakness is shown

You face a challenge that is written in stone

You can't erase or overcome it alone

If you let go you'll never make it I know
