Steve Winwood, Someone Like You

I've tried to live my life alone Independence, freedom was my own But there was a loneliness I could not ignore I knew deep down I needed more In my life I needed a feeling Of a love to come over me I felt the truth and so I prayed for Someone like you to hold my hand Someone like you to understand Someone like you to stand by me All my life, yeah, all my life - someone like you I remember laying eyes on you After we spoke deep inside I knew I can feel the happiness your soul brings to me Your presence makes my world complete And I know you know what I'm feeling There's a love coming over me And it's true, what I've waited for, your sweet and precious love I felt there was an emptiness I didn't know what was missing I didn't know how to quench it You are the answer to all my prayers you are the one that I needed You are the one I believe in Oh. I believe in
