

Steve Winwood, Who Painted The Moon Black

Did you see the shining moon
turn into a black balloon
just as you walked away from me

And did you see how hard I've tried not to show the pain inside
just as you walked away from me

Who painted the moon black just when you passed your love back
Who painted the moon black
Oh won't you, won't you come back

It must have been the darkest night not even a star in sight
just as you walked away from me

Who painted the moon black
just when you passed your love back
Who painted the moon black
Oh won't you, won't you come back
Who painted the moon black
just when you passed your love back
Who painted the moon black
Oh won't you, won't you come back
Who painted the moon

Did you see the shining moon
turn into a black balloon
just as you walked away from me

Who painted the moon black
just when you passed your love back
who painted the moon black
Oh won't you, won't you come back
Who painted the moon black
just when you passed your love back
who painted the moon black
Oh won't you, won't you come back
Who painted the moon