

Stevie Parker, The Cure

Let's wait for flames to burn
Missing the heat as they return
Lean over me searching reaches
Seems you forgot who this is

So won't you save me from myself?
Can't shake the feel of you yet
Our tangled breath meets in the air
Your hands like matchsticks on my skin
Unleash the beast within you

So won't you save me from myself?

I know that lines will be blurred
Boundaries crossed, words overheard
I will surrender to those eyes
It's just a matter of time

So won't you save me from myself again?
So won't you save me from myself?
I know that lines will be blurred,
Boundaries crossed, words overheard,
I will surrender to those eyes
It's just a matter of time
