

Still Remains, Bliss

Fell the fire of our hearts, fell the flame of our desire
Alone we will find you, but alone we are
We are desperate for guidance, we are looking for direction
Open our ears
You're almost like a shotgun ringing out with no objection
Open our ears
You're almost like a shotgun ringing out with no objection
Show us how to move like you do
We're moving now, we're moving now
Starve us so we will have this hunger
Let us look till we can look no more
Alone we are searching, but alone we are
Show us how to move like you do
We're moving now, we're moving now
Open our ears
You're almost like a shotgun ringing out with no objection
Open our ears
You're almost like a shotgun ringing out with no objection
