

Stina Nordenstam, Almost A Smile

Almost a smile
Like the sun here in November
Almost a smile

Almost a smile
Lakes that glitter behind trees
Blinking lamps in dusky streets
Almost a smile

Almost a smile
Like the bliss of northern summer
Hopefulness with the new-comer

Very casual and unstable like a guest will leave the table

Like a day when nothing happens when you were sure the worst would happen
Almost a smile

Like a word that isn't worthless that you haven't heard in lies yet
Almost a smile

Like the presence of a stranger when you've lived in constant danger
Almost a smile

Passing cars, surprising comfort
Like a lover at the airport
Almost a smile
