

Stonewall Jackson, Best I Have (Is Not Enough For You)

I tried to give you all the love there is in me
The more I tried the more we disagreed
I'd break my heart or be a slave or die for you
Still the best I have is not enough for you

Sometimes I think that I should run away and hide
So you can't see how much this heart of mine has died
Oh you only want me when there's nothing else to do
And the best I have is not enough for you

I know that I'm a fool but I can't help myself
And there's something in your heart that I can't seem to melt
Oh you show me love but then you try to keep me blue
And the best I have is not enough for you
[steel]
I know that I'm a fool...
