

Stonewall Jackson, It's Not Me

It's not me that you speak to when you're talking in your sleep
It's not me I can tell by all the secrets that you keep
It's not me you're always dreaming of oh how it hurts to know which your new love
It's not me that you're kissing someone else is on your mind
It's not me that you're missing cause I'm with you all the time
It's not me and it tears my soul apart to have you hold me while he is in your heart
[guitar]
(It's not me you're pretending when you say that I love you
It's not me I can tell by all the little things you do)
You're in love and any fool can see your heart is breaking for someone it's not me
Your heart is breaking for someone it's not me
