

Stonewall Jackson, This One Gets My Vote

I just found out where you go each and every night
Where the drinks are high and the lights are low and mortals match the lights
Where the music's loud but still the crowd drowns out every note
Of all the places I wish you were this one gets my vote

This one gets my vote of the last place you would be dear
But I looked everywhere so I know you had to be here
I found you now I should be glad but I guess I missed that boat
For of all the sad sights I have seen this one is my vote

[guitar]

My eyes would get my vote as the saddest and most misty
For I just saw a stranger kissed the lips that used to kiss me
Now here I stand with trembling hands my heart up in my throat
For the saddest heart that's ever be this one is my vote
For the saddest heart that's ever be this one is my vote
