

Story Of The Year, Choose Your Fate

Have you ever given any thought to the fate of your children?

We've made good progress

[Scrambled words]

Slowly but surely achieving our objective

LIAR!!!

Slip from the tongue

With the breath of a prophet

Call to die

Kiss with a bomb

From the heart of the promise no more world

In a home that's broken and silent

The truth will not be heard

In the forceful world of a tyrant

Freedom is a loaded word

Compliance!

It's more than code

It's a contest of fate for

The corrupt

What power is love

Finally chance widely smiled upon

In a place where God is abandoned

Freedom can become a curse

YEAH BEGGAR!!!

Choose your fate!

The reaction!

The reaction is awake!

So choose your fate!

The reaction!

The reaction is awake!

Cuz when the meaning fails to be objectified

Lies will carry through

Until you see them staring from the other side

Back at you

Back at you

YOU!!!

YOU!!!!!

Now they were trying to sell you

From your word

From your word

Yeah

When the meaning fails to be objectified

(To be objectified)

Then your lies will stare back at you from the other side

(From the other side)

BEGGAR!!!

Choose your fate!

The reaction!

The reaction is awake!

So choose your fate!

The reaction!

The reaction is awake!

Yeah!

Awake!

Yeah!

Awake!

Choose your, own fate!

Already!

The reaction is awake!
