

Story Of The Year, Light Years Away

The skyline tonight
is burning my skin
but she loves the view
and feeling

the blinding blue lights are pulling us in
in light years away her touch stays the same

before we choke on the rain with angels calling her name
before we die
before this night is over
we turn to flames

licking the flesh
the cold metal floor
their motionless eyes
are watching

consider these scars
a new souvenir
close my eyes as the sun disappears

before we choke on the rain
before we die
before this night is over
we turn to flames

choking on the rain

yea we turn to flames

it's killing you
it's killing you
they're breaking YOU!
they're already breaking you breaking you
they're breaking you
yeah that's what you get

gooooo!
before we choke on the rain
before we die
before this night is over
we turn to flames

(Raaaaar!)
we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)
we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)
we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)
Yeah Go!

(Raaaaar!)
Yeah we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)

Yeah we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)
Yeah we turn to flames
(Raaaaar!)
