

Strange Celebrity, Someday

All lines have been drawn
On battle fields far away
From the place that you know
Oh . . . whenever a storm approaches
You hide away in your own little world
But I can't close my eyes
To what I see in life
When tears fall down like rain
Someday
The sun's gonna shine
And lift us beyond where we are
Someday
If only we could love one another
I hope we can reach out that far
Someday
Don't think that our fate is sealed
Cause love will reveal itself, to you
In time all wounds will heal
Whatever your fears will be
They'll all come down
If hope can multiply
And reach the world outside
Then we will break these chains
Someday I can feel it coming
Somehow I can see the signs
But we've got a mountain to climb
