

Stratovarius, Abyss Of Your Eyes

I feel like I'm drowning, trying to catch my breath. Don't know what is happening, there's no sense of

Deep underneath my skin, feeling the pain within hear my cry. I feel drown towards you can't resist

My life is changing I cannot recall, where I've been before
The abyss of your eyes, meaning so much more, am I losing my mind

The sun doesn't shine, but your eyes light my way, I've found what I've been searching for, my love

Deep underneath my skin, feeling the pain within hear my cry. I feel drown towards you can't resist

My life is changing I cannot recall, where I've been before
The abyss of your eyes, meaning so much more, am I losing my mind

So many years my drifting heart has wandered around, don't turn on me please, won't you stay by

My life is changing I cannot recall, where I've been before
The abyss of your eyes, meaning so much more, am I losing my mind.
