

Stratovarius, Night Time Eclipse

If I could stay awake for awhile
I would see another morning.
Don't wanna fall asleep now when everything seems so far and beyond.
Walking down a familiar road
but the darkness is misleading me.
I know I should feel fear inside
but still the shadows is where I wanna be.

Just an ordinary day stealing all the hope away.
Wanting me to be the one who has dreams mad of clay.

My fading confused mind
creating phrases unknown.

I know I shouldn't stay awake
if I fall asleep they just might find me.
Now all is so clear
I can finally proceed.

My fading confused mind
creating phrases unknown.

Waiting for the dawn
soon to arrive.
So few options that I have and I can use.
Life's circumstances
can be so cruel.
If I take a chance I just might make the wrong move.