

Stray Kids, Hellevator

My life was rock bottom, an edge of a cliff
I'm walking in a dark tunnel
Cruel and fearful days
I'm enduring through alone
The classroom hallways get farther away, I'm on unfamiliar paths
I'm so unlucky
On this path I'm on
I don't even have a map
But I never want to turn around
It's a maze
Shedding blood sweat instead of blood tears, I comfort myself

People tell me this kind of suffering
Is just a passing storm
That if I want to succeed, even though I'm afraid
I need to set up a trap called failure
As I bit on the bait that is pain
I'm wandering
As I put away my tired wings of passion

My life was rock bottom, an edge of a cliff
I'm walking in a dark tunnel
Cruel and fearful days
I'm enduring through alone
I hold out my hand
But no one is there to grab it
I'm riding on my pain and my tears
As I try to escape above

I'm on a hellevator
My hellevator
I'm on a hellevator
My hellevator
I'm on a hellevator

There's nothing
No one to care or worry about me
Only cold words
Telling me to give up on my dreams
Those quitting words keep hitting my ear
Only despair grows
The hopeful sky only gets covered by other people's hands

I'm praying to live as I try to endure
With the piercing eyes on me
I'm going insane
Even if I succeed
I'll be someone's clown
So people tell me to give up on becoming a singer
I'm getting weak
But I keep pushing myself

My life was rock bottom, an edge of a cliff
But no one is there to grab it
I'm riding on my pain and my tears

I'm on a hellevator
My hellevator
I'm on a hellevator

My hellevator
I'm on a hellevator

I'm trying to look for an exit
Take myself out from being trapped in the darkness
I'm fighting harder, run away from this place
I'm on the hellevator, I'm gonna go up
I'm escaping from my dark past
Shining on my path ahead
Tiresome times that drove me crazy
I'm running so I can forget
As the bell of a new start rings
I got on, hold my hand
And take me to the penthouse, my hellevator

I'm on a hellevator
My hellevator
I'm on a hellevator
