

Street Dogs, Tale Of Mass Deception

An elaborate con of the common man
Propelled by your massive media plan
I can see your hostel takeover, greed, and your lies
Turning what I love into what I despise

It's a tale of mass deception, destruction, corruption
And I'm under the assumption through government's real function
High and clear and present danger I'm fearing the stranger
No permission of fear and mind control
You gotta go

You're telling lies to cover all those tracks
But it's miss information and the honesty it lacks
Your mission now is to define how it all went wrong
Did you take her for a ride and stride along

It's a tale of mass deception, destruction, corruption
And I'm under the assumption through government's real function
High and clear and present danger I'm fearing the stranger
No permission of fear and mind control

Suffering the wrath
All the internal collapse
the result ? sorted path
Well I watch it all crack
? yearn for some honesty, yeah

So you got the dictator, but why go lie
They're about to poison the atomic fright
? with honchos in tow
So the world 'll be glad about all that you know

It's a tale of mass deception, destruction, corruption
And I'm under the assumption through government's real function
high and clear and present danger I'm fearing the stranger
no permission of fear and mind control
