

Stretch Arm Strong, Dreams Away

I had a dream last night. The best I've ever dreamed and when I woke I realized it was better than it seemed.
Skin like velvet eyes of blue. My fears and dreams collided and came true.
(chorus) One life born and two lives changed.
Life as I once knew it will never be the same.
What makes me worth it I'll never know,
but I'll take the time to watch this flower grow.
Build this foundation to fortify my soul. Allow me to grow. (chorus)
I wouldn't trade our sleepless nights. And I wouldn't trade our endless days for the ransom of a king. And I won't waste our time away.
I won't let it slip away! Slip away! Dreams away.
