

Stretch Arm Strong, Miles Apart

Dig deep inside your mind I know I can't forget you.
Reality and rawness I find, I know this is truth.
Stripped of all my pretense I feel so lost and naked.
With your tenderness for love I can make it.
Confusion, fear consumes my thoughts the things I say and do.
It's all difficult because I'm not with you.
I know that I'm not growing,
but sometimes I slip and now I'm slowing down.
Please help me and please show me,
so I can stop slipping and slowing down.
Here we are sitting miles apart.
