

Stretch Arm Strong, Reason To Care

how can you right a wrong? why does it take so long? i know i'm not that strong. how can we carry on? justify then separate. tell myself to communicate with my surroundings. get in touch. i think i'm better off right here inside. a place that i know a place to reconcile. all that i wanted and all that i see. all that i am and all i've grown to be. pushing forward and moving ahead digging deeper than i ever had. i've got a reason to care. with you i'm willing to share my reason to care.
