

Stretch Armstrong, All We've Lost

all we've lost is so much more i can't believe all the things i see so many people strung out on vanity a lust for something more so much more than we're given now it's too late me made our mistakes can't we change the way we're living? i don't know why we try and try to be something more than we are not no matter how we lie we'll never mask what's inside will tyou be left standing? can you carry on this charade?
it's all we've lost
