

Stretch Armstrong, When Sorrows Fall

it's okay to say i love you it's okay for you to cry the sorrow that you are feeling you should not deny so why is it so trying to express the way i feel? just one moment you steal i still care and i still feel time and again
it's all too real separate and detached myself running from all the pain i felt questioning the way I am and the things with which i've dealt somewhere in the foothills of my mind i know my ways just aren't right they're not right so i'll shrug it off and wear a grin i'll carry on and just pretend i still care i still feel
time and again
it's all too real
