

Strife, To An End

Because I stand in this defiance I wear the mark of those
Who choose to refuse self-destructive points of view
And with each day spent in self-perseverance
My voice is strong against what's wrong forcing it to end
Forcing it to end
Standing in this defiance and wearing the mark of those
We chose to refuse our system's defective views
And with each day spent in our self-perseverance
Our voices strong against what's wrong
We're forcing it to end
We're forcing it to an end
