

Strike Anywhere, You are not a Collateral Damage

our lives! are not expendable no murdering meals
are starving the bloodstream I am still accountable for all of my footsteps scarring the green
yeah

A silent cry
planet wide
are all our cousins
happy to die?
traditions and appetites
are no good reason why We are all animals
so we suffer in kind
all our customs leave
our consciousness behind
all this balance
interrupted

I won't consume you
If you breathe what I do
and bleed in red too
We paint a picture of human 'nature'
This distance that we buy vivisected
then collected
You didn't have to die this Species War it is Class War poverty diet cancer increases in the freezers at the back of the store we only look at lives lived in pieces

so we suffer in kind

I won't consume you
and bleed in red too
Live free

We are all animals
so we suffer in kind

I won't consume you

Did they smile through their teeth when they told you

you deserved this?
professional men
speaking from the side of their mouths
letting you battle
with this isolation
give me strength to witness strength to witness

death is big business not for you and I
our death is not collateral
