

Styx, It Takes Love

sometimes it's hard to smile keep looking back searching for somebody who once was in your life baby let him go now there'll be something better ahead
it takes love to make love you can't hide behind your broken heart
let the light of another lover shine on you we all have tears to cry but there comes a day to leave your tears behind you
and give your heart someplace to start and if you find your way there there'll be someone waiting for you
like a river
that flows
to the sea
don't wait
flowing down whoa...hey...ooh...ah...ooh
never mind the broken heart baby
