

Such A Surge, Joy & Pain

send out your "may day" and pray that the blue sky won't fade to grey anyway you have to pay the price for the lies in your eyes when you look at me, you're fakin' that same smile while you're drivin' me wild talking to you is like talking to the t.v. i try to communicate but you don't wanna hear me you try to teach us to hate each other how to judge a book by the cover all the bridges that you burn will come back one day to haunt you demons will be on your trail in hell i don't receive relief when i'm in need of your helping hands, my so called friends fuck you and don't try to dazzle my eyes your luring apple is a lie so tell me why you're living on the dark side of greed so sucker yes indeed there is the need that you bleed refrain : joy 'n' pain ...your sunshine...is my rain respect, i don't know if i'm feeling that for you self-consciously have you told us so many lies, i thought were true but afterwards there was just something hittin' on my mind i can't believe that i was wrong, and too blind to see that you won't change your life that i can't understand cause you don't get further with it, you're a poor old man so listen up loud and clear and try to make it for real when you get home don't tell us lies cause mother is also here searching for something that we call respect you will never deserve it even if you don't quit you committed a crime against your own family so word for word and line for line stand up for it since you have been gone life changed so fast no one remembers the ugly old past to get through this, it's our family affair but we're gonna make it and we don't care down to earth we're gonna stay fair

a deeper shade of soul is pulsating in my veins i'm standing in your rain, i'm going down your drain you enjoy my pain cause i don't play your game hate is your weapon, at me you take aim day by day, up 'n' down, round 'n' round what the hell is going on, how can i stay strong i'm an outcast, powerblast, free at last, in this to win this, of course, i am a menace and i'm ready for the next move cause i'm two steps ahead, i can't wait to combat your getting hectic cause i know the right tactic tic tac yes i'm back to attack the redneck life is like a game only the strongest will remain i wait for justice but i wait in vain joy 'n' pain every single day the same, the rich in the sunshine, the poor in the rain
