

Suede, Golden Gun

can you feel our minds in motion can you feel these thoughts i've sung can you feel our steel devotion can you feel our love become strong can you feel these words like winter can you see how far we've come can you feel this moment's splinter as you feel our thoughts become one you've got the fire

you've got the passion you've got your head switched on you've got emotion you've got devotion
you've got the golden gun as we pull into this station

can you see how far we've come can you feel this communication as you feel our love become young can you hear these words like winter can you feel these thoughts i've sung as you feel this moment splinter

can you feel our love become strong

so give me the fire give me the passion give me your head switched on give me emotion give me devotion give me the golden gun

you've got the fire
you've got the passion
you've got your head switched on
you've got emotion
you've got devotion
you've got the golden gun
you've got the golden gun
you've got the golden gun