

Suffering And The Hideous Thieves, I Will Always

Don't you ever ever stop me leaving
I'll be leaving you forever, love

I've been wishfully thinking of leaving you
Since the day that we met
Now I've come to that point
Where I'm happy to inform you
That I'm better off without you

So think about that, dear
There won't be a bleeding heart
For you this time
You see, I've taken charge
And I won't back down

So you better listen again
I will always find a way
Yes, there is a way without you
I will always find a way
Yes, there is a way without you

It's springtime again
And you've come around
Looking for me once again
You're silly, quite funny,
So juvenile
The way you think sometimes

What makes you think
That I'd ever come back to you
What makes you think I'd have
Anything to do with you
I've got so much life to live
You'd be the death of me

So you better listen again
I will always find a way
Yes, there is a way without you
I will always find a way
Yes, there is a way without you

I will always find a way
Yes, there is a way
Without you in my life
I will always find a way

Nothing has changed
You're still the same
And I won't bother anymore
With all these games
Nothing has changed
You're still the same
