

Sugarcult, Cailin

Well it seemed like yesterday
When the world was looking dark
It felt so cold and gray
And why the hell am I even here?
What's the purpose?
All I feel is guilt and hate and fear

Till the day you came along
My heart was empty like the soul was missing from a song
And I thought I'd broke a few
Yeah, no one ever made me feel the way that you do

Hey little girl, look what you do
Oh, I love you
Hey little girl, oh I love you

Well I know I'm not always right
And girl, it breaks my heart when I don't have to see you cry
So many things I wanna say
Yeah, now I know that you're the reason that I'm here today
And whenever you're here, just stay near
We'll be alright, yeah alright

Hey little girl, look what you do
Oh, I love you
Hey little girl, look what you do
And you do
When all my luck starts running thin
I got you, my own Cailin
Hey little girl, oh I love you
I love you
Yeah, hit me!

I'll be alright
But I, I need you close, please stay tonight
As long as you're here
Just stay near
We'll be alright, yeah alright

Hey little girl, look what you do
Oh, I love you
Hey little girl, look what you do
And you do
When all my luck starts running thin
I got you, my own Calyn
Hey little girl, oh I love
Hey little girl who I love
Hey little girl, oh I love you
