

Sugarplum Fairy, She

She said be bold
You can manage that you've been told to do
So it's true
That I can keep it all and spend it too

I'll lend you a hand
You raise your voice and make a stand and I
Saw you cry
I know they'll die, but so will you and I

She said I know
But the fire in my heart will show
She said I know
But my fire for this world will grow

We want it all
To be able to stand and fall and shout
Our doubts
And when the sun goes down then we stay out

And songs will be sung
In the parks by us, the young your mind
So bright
When you agree with me I know I'm right

She said I know
But the fire in my heart will show
She said I know
But my fire for this world will grow

I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why

You care so much
Were losing touch
You care too much
I don't know why
I don't know why
I don't know why

She said I know
But the fire in my heart will show
She said I know
But my fire for this world will grow

She said I know
But the fire in my heart will show
She said I know
But my fire for this world will grow

She said
