

Suicide Silence, Destruction Of A Statue

As... i look up to you

A cold carved stone, that i look up to for guidance now your lost smashed to pieces, by this hammer i have with this i swear you'll crumble, reaping what i have, cold cry your face your guidance wont be in vein, last time your face, not again!, forget your face? i count this watching crumbling down,from the sky and with this hammer you will crumble! from the sky, you will crumble, from the sky, destroy such beauty, count the lies on my own fingertips, destroy such beauty, death awaits destroy such beauty! please forgive me
