

Suki Waterhouse, To Love

Is there a universe where our paths never crossed?
Where I caught your eye
But then someone arrived and we both forgot
I traveled all corners where destiny called me
And it almost killed me
But I got good stories
While you were out somewhere
In your own nightmare
But now we're both here
And we talk of how lucky we got
As we watch old lovers we dodged
While the world's falling apart
You make it so easy to love

To love, to love, to love
Ahh, ahh, ahh
To love, to love, to love,
Ahh, ahh, ahh
Ahh, ahh, ahh
Oh how lucky we are

Is there a space somewhere in your world that was always for me
And was it your face at the back of my mind haunting my dreams
Kept waking up lonely with voices around me
They'd tell me you're out there, waiting to hold me
What did they tell you?
I read you were lonely too
And we talk of how lucky we got
We could have fallen like stars
But you told me right from the start
I'm easy to love

To love, to love, to love
Ahh, ahh, ahh
To love, to love, to love,
Ahh, ahh, ahh
Now I found myself this kinda love
I can't believe it
I'll never let it go
I thought I'd never get to feel another fucking feeling
But I feel
This love, this love, this love
Oh I feel it
This love, this love, this love
Oh how lucky we are
Oh how lucky we are
Oh how lucky we are
