

Sunk Loto, Soul Worn Thin

Just one more trip to some place nice we'll float away in space tonight now that your soul has worn thin you co-exist through flesh and blood not life you were not willing to sacrifice (you were not willing to sacrifice) all of the drugs to stay alive

I know its hard to stay alive

Just one more chance to say goodbye
I know it's hard to stay alive you'll go to a good place now this song is a farewell now my friend

you were not willing to sacrifice (you were not willing to sacrifice)

we saw you floating away drifting away we saw you float away stay alive

you were not willing to sacrifice
all of the drugs to stay alive

(in loving memory of Scott Cooper)
