

Sunny Day Real Estate, Song About An Angel man: so i say still away sleep close my eyes an image of your face traced in white sand underneath undefined i lay down arms outstretched i embrace the fall. and all the time i tried to let you know

discomfort comes clearly.
sometimes you see right through me Angel: you're married to your pain Man: although you hit me hard i come back the earth cries ease the pain. on the inside run behind. which one will i face? thin comfort in what i say my back is turned a halo my soul for a while and all the times i tried to let you know
