

Sunrise Avenue, Sail Away With Me

Theres a hundred love boats
All around me
And they all make the waves too high
Theres a heavy burden
On my shoulders
And it slowly pulls me down
I just have no one to sail with me
I just have no one to sail with me
Would you sail away with me
Could you leave it all behind and float away
And to lie beside me
When the sun goes down
Would you take me as I am
I would hold you all the way Id understand
We will break the strongest waves to see the land
Theres some in the water
Close to drowning
And Im always a stroke behind
And the taken sailors
Dont realize
How theyd need to respect their wives
I just have no one who would sail with me
Would you sail away with me
Could you leave it all behind and float away
And to lie beside me
When the sun goes down
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way Id understand
I need to sail away
But I cant beat the waves without you
The wind is calm
The ocean sleeps
We must leave now
The sky is dark
Others are gone
We must leave now
Would you sail away with me
