

Sunshine Anderson, Where Have You Been

You had to be hiding from me, all this time
Making me wait so very long, for you
Cause out of nowhere you just appeared before my eyes
Letting me know that there'd be no more lonely nights

Where have you been all of my life
What took me so long to get it right
Where have you been all of my life
(Tell me...)

How did you know when it was time, to make your move
And how did you know this heart of mine was this needing Being with you helps me realize that dreams come true
Next time don't take your sweet old time
To bring your love to me, oh yeah

Where have you been all of my life
What took me so long to get it right
Where have you been all of my life

To be honest, it's not fair
That so much time went by before we had a chance to share
Our love, we should've been together
But it's better late than never

Where have you been all of my life
Baby
Where have you been all of my life
Tell me

Where have you been all of my life
What took me so long to get it right
Where have you been all of my life
