

Sunspot, More Than My Degree

I know you're my TA but this is more than math, and there's a certain number I'd like to discuss after class.

I'm not nervous about this test, or that problem set
A passing grade in this dumb class is not what I hope to get.
Was it just coincidence that you called on me?
Do you know I want you more than my degree?

You don't have to worry, I know what this is about
"Office hours" is just clever slang for making out

Don't you know, it all adds up, like Bernoulli's equation
When I get your prime below mine, I'd even forego graduation
Was it just coincidence that you called on me?
Do you know I want you more than my degree?

Just like science, I'll be straight and tell it like it is:
I think that you're really great and want to have your kids
Was it just coincidence that you called on me?
Do you know I want you,
Do you know I want you?

The things that you explain
what do they mean?
I don't care
Just keep on looking at me,
Just keep on looking at me.

All the others in our class
don't seem to get it
They wanna "learn"...
Well I want extra credit!

I'm not nervous about this test, or that problem set
A passing grade in this dumb class is not what I hope to get.
Was it just coincidence that you called on me?
Do you know I want you more than my degree?

Every time you say isosceles,
It sounds so dirty,
Age won't matter,
when I'm 26 and you're 30,

Do you know I want you?
Do you know I need you?
Do you know I got to have you?
More than my degree.

Please stand so,
please stand so,
please stand so close to me,
Please stand so,
please stand so,
please stand so close to me.
