

Sunterra, Living Death

are you able to feel my pain have I ever seen the light in my life I can't remember the days once I felt felt the fear and lost control I have never seen lovely people only war we make to all of us only hate and destruction of every life I don't want to live here any more my body is a prison I can't feel I can't see show me the way out I want to feel I want to see my life is not what it used to be live in sadness spending time with waiting waiting for an end for the light there is no chance for me to live praying all the time for changing things but nobody have ever heard this words from me I am forever damned see the angels flying away take my soul with them on their way but none of them takes care for it none of them have heard my painful screams
