

Superchick, Barlow Girls Space Monkey Lab Mix

Verse #1

I met these sisters Barlow's their last name, ordinary girls they don't live in the fast lane they don't rate with the guys that score, cuz they don't flaunt what the boys want more.
They don't date they won't date they wanna see, how their gonna grow up, who their gonna be.
But in the meantime they might feel unloved, while all the girls around them are hooking up.
But I know for sure, it's never popular to be pure.
And while some guys might be passing them by,
I think they've caught someone's eye.

Chorus

All the boys in the band want a valentine from a Barlow girl boys think they're the bomb, cuz they remind them of their mom. 2x

Verse #2

Everyone needs to be loved, everyone needs their own teenage fan club.
Any attention can feel like a good thing, dress to impress can be oh so tempting.
You can get noticed with your body sexual hypnosis by being "hottie"; you might feel like public property you might, you might, you shouldn't be No girl should feel she has to trade her body for love or be an old maid and yes there are guys who are willing to wait just ask a Barlow girl on her wedding day!

(Chorus) 2x

Excuse me Barlow girl but there's something on my mind see I was just wondering, can I get a valentine?
Saw you walking by, something caught my eye, now there's something different about you girls alright I can't lie now you got it going on and all the guys in the band they keep saying your the bomb, but it's not the way you dress or the clothes your putting on, your not looking to impress because your holding on, for your wedding night well let me keep it going on any girl can be a Barlow grl it's more than just a song, am I wrong? Don't think so, spare me the drama, you remind me of my momma...

Ooohh....

(chorus)

all the boys in the band want a valentine.....
