Superchunk, Shallow End

shallow end

well you're barking out what you think and you're drinking your expensive drinks you're in your car and you're on the phone think you better follow that cord back home is that a pearl i'm supposed to keep cause you are putting me to sleep well i know you think you're deep alright but you should stay in your shallow end now you're feeding me watery drinks and i'm singing while your sunfish sinks you got a ponytail dragging you down like the cloud that follows you around is that a call i'm supposed to keep cause you are putting me to sleep well i know you think you're deep alright but you should stay in your shallow end
