Superdrag, Liquor (Another Version)

you never knew the things your beauty made me want to do as if you'd care as if you'd ever let me take you there i guess you'll never see what you could have had in me it never could be true thing i only could've felt inside of you i saw your eyes i knew that you were gone it's no surprise i kissed your face i didn't know it would invade your space

i guess you'll never see what you could've had in me it never could be true thing i only could've felt inside of you i guess that's true
