

Supreme Beings Of Leisure, Everywhere

It's in the mirror when I see
Your face reflected back at me
I half expect to hear your voice
Reminders float like papers in the breeze
Bathing in reverie
Yes dust to dust but you remain you see
So rooted deep within my groove
No you don't miss a beat you linger on

So strange
I know you're here
'Cause your love is everywhere
We're one heart I do believe
You're now the air I breathe
You're in me

It's in the way she looks at me
A smile as wide as Tennessee
I hold her tightly with your hands
And cradle every possibility
Ours is your legacy
A downy crib and dreams of what could be
I have nothing to fear
You are with me each step of the dance
You linger on

So strange
I know you're here
'Cause your love is everywhere
We're one heart I do believe
You're now the air I breathe
Your love is everywhere
Your love is everywhere

So strange
I know you're here
'Cause your love is everywhere
We're one heart I do believe
You're now the air I breathe
You're in me
You're the air I breathe
You're in me
In everything I see
So strange
I know you're here
