

Sure Conviction, Axe To My Tree

(M.

Liffengren/P. Liffengren)

I can come to you with my life filled with so much pride

Come to you not knowing where you live

Come to you right now with big explosive words

But when I look in the mirror an adjustment occurs

I'll put an axe to my tree - before I come talk to you

About the needle in your eye - that you need to lose

I'll put a ball to the wall - that divides us two apart

For truth is an arrow - that goes right thru the heart

I've seen too many sights that are making me ashamed

I've spoken all too often in regards to your name

I'm apologizing now for the way I've always been

I'm feeling kinda foolish and I've wiped off my grin

I'll put an axe - to my tree

Before I come talk to you

I'll put an axe - to my tree

Before I come talk to you

I've finally learned the words that my father spoke

About speaking out of line being a foolish joke

For nothing gets accomplished but a wall standing strong

Gonna get out my axe and chop that monster down
