

Surfdog7, Waiting Too Long

They say that we are standing in the middle of life now they say that we have to give all time the best that we can
a few years ago we thought we can carry the world on our shoulders before we trust in someone we have to prove, to ask about it waiting too long

i'm growing old
my life is passing
am i living in a song?
can i really separate?

they say that time is always the cure of the wounds in life higher, bigger, faster - magic words to survive
a few years ago we thought we can carry the world on our shoulders before we trust in someone we have to prove, to think about it

waiting too long
my life is passing
