

Susan Werner, Together

there must be a time there must be a place when everyone will finally come together if there is a God with a human face i'm sure He'd want us all to come together and get beyond these bolted doors get beyond these awful bloody wars get beyond this way of settling scores 'cause the score is never even and if i had the words then i'd make the case that everyone has got to come together if i had the hounds i'd call off the chase and everyone could finally come together we'd get beyond who's right and wrong get beyond the need to look so strong and just get on with simply getting along 'cause that's a thing we can all believe in

'cause that's enough of the bitter tears that's enough of talking to our mirrors that's enough of separate hemispheres that's enough that's enough we really gotta come together come together

oh yeah
gotta find a way
You and me we got we got we got to come to together somehow someday
right now