

Susie Suh, Shell

A time is coming, is coming soon
I feel it in my bones, I feel it in my shoes
I was lost, now I'm found
And all my troubles are turnin' around
Oh I feel I'm getting' so close to you
Heaven's holding my hand and I'm ready to break on through
So I'm tearing down the walls inside
Letting go of all my pride
Make it wrong before the light
I don't need to hide inside this shell
This shell, no more
No more
I don't know my right from left
And I've been going around this bend
So many miles I have walked
Lately I feel like I'm coming home
Oh I'm getting so close to you
Heaven's lettin' a candle and I'm ready to break on through
So I'm tearing down the walls inside
Letting go of all my pride
Make it wrong before the light
I don't need to hide inside this shell
This shell, no more
No more
Oh no, no, nooo
No more, no more
Yeah, yeah
So I'm tearing down the walls inside
Letting go of all my pride
Make it wrong before the light
I don't need to hide inside this shell
This shell, no more
No more
So I'm tearing down the walls inside
Letting go of all my pride
Make it wrong before the light
I don't need to hide inside this shell
This shell, no more
No more
