

Susperia, Anguished Scream (For Vengance)

Will I ever find myself again
Will I ever feel your presence here again
Just as long as you let me try to heal
Could you show me what's inside your mind

Is there something you should tell me now
Is there something you regret about me
As I tighten the grip around your throat
Please tell me what's inside your mind

Did it ever occur to you that I really cared
I don't think it did
You never gave a damn if I lived or died
So now you'll pay

Do you think it's funny to laugh at my face
I think you do
You thought you would never see me again
But here I am

Is there something you would like to tell me before you die
