

Suzy Bogguss, Live To Love Another Day

These sleepless nights when will they end
Each one that passes seems like years
The sound of goodbye plays in my mind
While the rain is keeping time with my tears

If I'm gonna live to love another day I've gotta believe
That the heart doesn't really break, it beats on
Tonight it might be hard for me to see beyond the rain
But I'll outlast the pain somehow, someday
If I'm gonna live to love another day

Sometimes I pray let him come back
Please let me feel his touch again
But it's time to wake from that hopeless dream
'Cause the sun will keep on rising without him

If I'm gonna live to love another day I've gotta believe
That the heart doesn't really break, it beats on
Tonight it might be hard for me to see beyond the rain
But I'll outlast the pain somehow, someday
If I'm gonna live to love another day

Tonight it might be hard for me to see beyond the rain
But I'll outlast the pain somehow, someday
If I'm gonna live to love another day
I'm gonna live to love another day...
