

Suzy Bogguss, Two Shades Of Blue

Suzy Bogguss & Chet Atkins

We painted a beautiful scene
With brown eyes and emerald green
The balck of the night and the silver moonlight on you and me
But the tears that we're crying each day
Had bled all the colors away now all I can see.

Is two shades of blue (now it's over and it's)
Poor me and you (all alone and wondering)
What will we do (now our love is turning)
Two shades of blue.

In our kaleidoscope dream we could have had everything
If only our lives would have started the night when we first met
But reality pulled us apart now we're dancing
Alone in the dark what a sad silhouette.

Is two shades of blue (now it's over and it's)
Poor me and you (all alone and wondering)
What will we do (now our love is turning)
Two shades of blue.

But the tears that we're crying
Each day had bled all the colors away
Now all I can see is.

Two shades of blue (now it's over and it's)
Poor me and you (all alone and wondering)
What will we do (now our love is turning)
Two shades of blue...
